

MORDEN TO REMAIN AS BUREAU CHIEF

Permanent Appointment as Street Cleaning Head to Follow Civil Service Certification

TWO OTHERS ALSO QUALIFY

Lieutenant Colonel Earl B. Morden, provisional chief of the Bureau of Street Cleaning, was appointed permanently to that position today. The Civil Service Commission made this known after having certified Chief Morden as No. 1 on the list of eligibles.

Two other applicants for the position qualified. They are George A. Tabor, 546 East Twenty-third street, Brooklyns, who obtained an average of 78, and Percy M. Proctor, 4128 Girard avenue, who passed with 70.75.

The special examiners named by the Civil Service Commission to examine the applicants were former Director Morris L. Cook, Strickland L. Kness and Prof. William Gashy, Jr. The commission started a hearing at 11 o'clock this morning on the question of exempting several provisional appointees from examination. Those in question are William B. Hills, acting superintendent of police; George Tempest, acting assistant superintendent of police; and Dr. Blair Spencer, physician-in-chief of the Bureau of Welfare. The commission held the matter under advisement.

William C. Dallas, 6717 Woodland avenue, and William A. Dyer, 2003 York road, have been named transit men in the bureau of surveys. The position pays $1600. Carl Schwartz, 408 Spruce street, was named an inspector in the bureau of water, and James Taylor, 306 Ritka street, was named stationary engineer in the bureau of water.

Three eligible lists were announced by the commission. One of five names at $1600 and two names is $1800 is for structural draftsmen in the bureau of surveys. Another is for clerks, paying from $1200 to $1600, and contains forty-eight names. The third contains six eligibles for storekeepers in the bureau of hospitals, paying $1500.

SECRECY CHARGE DENIED

County Commissioner Says All Election Data Are Available

The county commissioner's office is always "open and aboveboard" in supplying information of election petitions filed with the clerk, according to Commissioner George Holmes. "Anybody can get all information wanted here and a charge of secrecy is absurd," Holmes said, commenting on a published report that the office withheld information yesterday, the last day for filing petitions for ward committees.

Holmes estimated that about 10,000 petitions had been filed for the 1356 election divisions in this city. Republican Alliance and Yare organization have filed opposition tickets in nearly all divisions and the contest between Palmer-McCormick and Bonniwell Democrats added to the total.

A claim for $60.85 was made for a room furnished S. Elliott "as the special instance and request" of Mrs. Finney.

Marries Social Secretary to Mrs. Wilson at Washington

Rear Admiral James M. Helm, commandant of the Fourth Naval District, from February 12, 1918, until after the signing of the armistice, and Miss Edith W. Benham, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson's social secretary, were married yesterday in Washington.

Admiral Helm had his headquarters at Twelfth and Chestnut streets and lived at the Union League. At present he is senior member of the Commission on Navy Yards.

The news came as a surprise to all but Miss Benham's most intimate friends, for although the engagement had been rumored, no formal announcement had been made.

Mrs. Wilson was the only guest outside the families, and after extending her good wishes she went to St. John's Church to be present at the marriage of Miss Nancy Lane and Philip C. Kaufman.

TEACHERS APPROVE SALARY SCHEDULE

Majority Feel Dr. Finegan's Plan Superior to Anything Else Offered

HAS TO PASS LEGISLATURE

General approval is being expressed by teachers today over the new salary schedule adopted by the Board of Education at its meeting yesterday.

"Probably absolutely no one will be satisfied, but practically every one will feel that the Finegan schedule is superior to anything else offered that they will want to get behind it and fight for its adoption," according to Albert W. Dudley, president of the Allied Association of Public School Employees.

"It is a big step in advance, but it will not be possible to get the old quality of person into the profession until salaries are placed much in advance of even the present schedule. Teachers will have to be paid more." "It's a good promise," says Miss Jane Allen, head of the women teachers' organization, "and the schedule is satisfactory."

factory in itself. It does not provide relief for this summer, however, and the unfortunate part of it is that it cannot go into effect until September, 1921, and in the meantime the bill must be put through the Legislature.

The Allied Association will have a meeting this afternoon at 1327 Spring Garden street to discuss the schedule and a means of working on a campaign for immediate relief. A house-to-house canvass is contemplated for the purpose of informing citizens of what the schools of this city require and to obtain the opinion of the people.

So we're just handing you something out of our own pockets, like a company that pays a dividend out of surplus, so as not to break its dividend record. We don't want to pass up the Intensified Sale Idea, because men are looking for it, and we want above all things to keep bucking the price problem, so we're sacrificing a bunch of regular stock just to show that we're out to bust the old H. C. of L. even if it costs us money to do it. At the same time, there's mighty little H. C. of L. even in our regular prices, for we're leading the town in keeping the cost of clothes where you don't need a ladder to reach them.

FAILED TO REPORT ACCIDENT; IS HELD

Minot J. Hill, Bristol Traction Man, Says Victim Had Been Hit Previously

$2000 BONDS DEMANDED

Minot J. Hill, general manager of the Trenton-Bristol Street Railway Co., charged with running into and severely injuring a motorcyclist on Broad street, Monday evening, and failing to report the accident to the police, was given a hearing before Magistrate Carson, in the Park and Lehigh station today. He was held in $2000 bail for a further hearing next Wednesday.

Hill, accompanied by a few friends, including J. S. Roberts, borough engineer of Bristol, was returning to Bristol from the Metropolitan Opera House late Monday night, when, at Broad and Tioga, he is said to have run into Walter C. Rutter, twenty-two years old, of 2531 North Fourth street.

According to the police report, Hill went on to Bristol without leaving his name and address with the police, but the license number of his car was taken and he was arrested yesterday.

Rutter was taken to the Samaritan Hospital, where he is suffering from internal injuries and a fractured jaw.

At the hearing today, Hill told the magistrate there was a car parked in the middle of Broad street above Tioga and that it was not until he was nearly ten feet of Rutter he saw the man and the motorcycle, both flat on the ground, sliding toward the car.

Hill said he did not know what to do after putting Rutter into a passing automobile, which carried the injured man to a hospital.

He took the precaution yesterday of consulting his insurance company, and testified further that a bystander told him he should have taken the number of another car which might have been responsible for hitting Rutter first.

Magistrate Carson told Hill that as a traction man he should know that he ought to have given his name and address to the police.

Mrs. Georgette Corino fainted this morning when she discovered a fire in the third floor of her home at 507 Federal street, and she was carried out by Patrolman Gobinsky.

Her three children, whom she left on the first floor when she smelled smoke and went upstairs to investigate, left the house unharmed. The fire began in a mattress, from an unextinguished cause, and was put out with slight damage.
